New Orleans

Up very early as usual in 20 degree temperature, we were thinking of a milder clime down on the Delta. The city not yet awake is ghost like under a cover of ice and sleet and the fox holes were treacherous things. The early morning Diplomats who burgeon with big thoughts over their coffee cups will soon be up and Cameron's Civic Progress will not suffer any so we slip away, moving slowly east to the rolling hills.

The earth is jaded, a cascade of unfolding, drab emptiness as we see it in the first gray light of the morning. Farm homes look like something out of Curie & Ives book of old wood cuts. They are etched in icy detail and locked to a landscape that is white with frost and ice. Those leaning objects nearby we recall when memory keeps us company, complete the pastoral privilege but seem strangely Archaean in this atomic age.

The ice covered roads are very difficult, in fact it was 2 p. m. when we reached Houston but the weather was moderating some. Rain retarded our passage. It was late afternoon when we crossed the Sabine at Orange. Dozens of war time ships are rusting at their docks in the yards here. At Lake Charles darkness fell suddenly and a Louisiana night can be black. We crossed the Mississippi at Baton Rouge around 10:30 p. m. Off to our right we see half clothed in darkness the spars of ships and stretching along the banks of the great river is the Capital of Louisiana, a sparkling city growing faster than any southern metropolis. New Orleans is a scant three hours ahead and it is raining.

Commercial traffic on Louisiana highways is very heavy. We make it to our hotel, the Roosevelt by 1 a. m. We find we have no reservation which had been pledged to us 2 weeks ago. They tell us at the desk the movie stars are still here and since all planes have been grounded the distinguished visitors cannot get away. The Big Carnival closed on February 10. We do not want to chase Heddy Hopper out of our room so we take a spacious ac-

Right now the kind of weather we are due to have for the next few days and thereafter is very important to many people.

Farming already delayed here due to rainfall and delayed for the opposite reason in other sections will be moving rapidly if the promised sunshine stays.

Frost was being forecast for this area Wednesday night for the skies will be clear. Cold air was still coming in and although cloudy skies may rule the weather picture for Thursday no rain is forecast.

Mild north winds are due to continue through Thursday and after that the weather will be warmer.

Tomato planters are hoping against hope they will get the break they need to become a factor in the market since the Rio Grande Valley crop was snuffed out by the cold wave in February.

Plants are now becoming available and prospects thus far are good though the crop will be late.

TOTAL LOSS REPORTED IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

Fire at 1:30 a. m. Friday destroyed the United States Postoffice in Burlington.

Walter Marek, war veteran who had recently been named postmaster, said the loss was total.

A company of Cameron Firemen responded to the call and sent a truck. Also a truck was dispatched from Rosebud.

Sheriff Carl Black went to Burlington shortly after the alarm was sounded. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

The Man Who Sold Hot Dogs; Or How To Bring On Depression

There was a man who sold hot dogs by the side of the road. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio, had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold hot dogs. He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were. He stood at the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister." And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders, bought a bigger stove to take care of his growing trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him out. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There is a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The Domestic situation is worse." Whereupon the father thought, "Well my son's been to college. He reads the papers and listens to the radio, and he ought to know." So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand by the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right, son," the father said to his boy, "we certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Massey Case Set For Submission

The Ola Dee Massey case will be formally submited to the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin on April 28.

Points of law are raised in the transcript and bill of exceptions by defense attorneys and these will be argued before the court.

The crux of the contest is whether the trial was conducted in strict accordance with the law. There will of course be no witness testimony. Bill Morrison, county attorney, will represent the state and Camp & Camp will represent the defendant.

Dr. Massey, woman dentist of Waco, was convicted on a charge of kidnapping and given 5 years in prison. Her late aunt, Mrs. R. H. Johnson, was taken to a Waco hospital and forcibly detained while her home here was robbed.

Liquor Dealers Here Get Limelight Over Drunk Cut Off List

Milam county beer and liquor dealers got in the limelight recently over publicity in the Dallas News regarding a drunk's cut off list.

Newsweek of March 15 has a pithy comment which was clipped and mailed to The Herald by J. G. Kamenicky of 338 North Patton Avenue in Dallas as follows:

Liquor Control: Upset by the effect of chronic alcoholism on their business, liquor dealers in Milam County, Texas, devised a "cut-off list" to separate the drunk from his bottle. Compiled from court and jail records, the list was a roll call of those who run afoul of the law by overdrinking. Bartenders refuse to sell them liquor. Noting that the system had cut drunk arrests 50 per cent, City Marshal Jim McGoldrick of Cameron said: "It sure upsets 'em to find their names on that list. It either hurts what pride they got left, or they know the drinks have been stopped."

March 31 Is Last Day to Buy License For Cars for 1948

Wednesday, March 31 is the last day to buy without penalty your car and truck license plates for 1948.

Under the law these new plates must be on cars and trucks by April 1st.

According to the Tax Collector's office registrations are not as brisk as expected, but during the remainder of the month the vehicle owners will register.

Valter White, tax collector, will have all his office force ready for the rush, but believes that if car and truck owners would go early they can avoid the last minute press of details.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Black of Port Arthur were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ike West the past week end.

Ruby Butler left Wednesday to begin work in Bryan. Miss Butler formerly worked at the Vaughan's Toddle Inn.

MILLER SPRINGS FUND SOUGHT AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, March 15— The question of spending federal funds on an equitable basis to build Miller Springs dam on the Leon river and thus help relieve a much harrassed section of the country which is now suffering annual economic losses as well as loss of human life was put squarely up to the senate appropriations committee by Temple area congressmen and citizens Monday afternoon. They were favorably received.

The group, introduced by Senator Tom Connally of Marlin, included Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco; Byron Skelton, city attorney, Temple; George Chance, Bryan, president of the board of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district; Roy Sanderford, Belton, former state senator; Frank Mayborn, president of the Bell Publishing company; Hammond Moore of the Temple Chamber of Commerce; Rep. Olin Teague, Bryan; Rep. Clark W. Thompson, Galveston, and Jim Reinhold, representing railroad interests in the area.

Poage presented an exhibit of 164 tiny brown boxes—miniature caskets—to bring home to the committee the fact that 164 people died in one flood on Little River. Sen. Chan Gurney, R, South Dakota, who presided, suggested after one look at the "gruesome exhibit" that they be taken away, as the committee would not forget them.

When Poage said "that is more people than have died in any flood in this country in recent years except the Johnstown or Galveston floods," he was interrupted by Senator John H. Overton of Louisiana, who recalled the Mississippi river flood in 1927.

On questioning of Senator Overton, Col. P. A. Feringa of the U. S. army engineers brought out that the $1 million sought to begin construction of the Miller Springs dam was sufficient to launch the building and that although planning was not yet complete it could be finished in time to use this money in the next fiscal year.

E. A. Camp Operated On In Temple Hospital

E. A Camp of Rockdale was making satisfactory progress in Scott & White Hospital in Temple following an emergency operation Sunday.

Mr. Camp became suddenly ill at his home and was rushed to Temple for the surgery. Mr. Camp had been ailing for sometime.

Friends here will be glad to know of his improvement and that while his condition was critical the operation was successful. Mr. Camp, prominent bar member, is former Mayor in Rockdale and the father of Emory B. Camp of Cameron. Law offices are maintained in Cameron and Rockdale.

RABIES AMONG CATTLE FEARED AS ONE LOST

Rabies among cattle on the W. M. Brown farm at Maysfield has resulted in the loss of one animal and another cow belonging to Curtis Moseley in an adjoining pasture has died also.

Mr. Brown killed the cow and the head was sent to Austin for examination and rabbies was found. The cow had been acting strangely and proof that she was mad was obtained from Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are taking precautions and will receive serum treatments.

BANK LOANS WILL INSURE FULL TERMS

AUSTIN, March 10—State educational leaders and banking officials have agreed that funds needed in the rural aid school financial crisis will come from local bank loans, Gov. Beauford H. Jester said today.

The plan—which eliminates necessity of a special session of the Legislature—was described by the governor as having "unanimous approval" of all agencies concerned in the emergency.

Full agreement was reached in an afternoon conference between the governor, officials of the Texas State Teachers association and the association of equalization school, legislators, and a representative of the state board of education. Banking officials were contacted by telephone, preceded by prior conferences, the governor said.

A committee of the State Teachers association had previously asked for the special session to supplement rural aid appropriations which are about $3,000,000 shy of the amount needed to pay teachers' salaries in full for the current year.

"Under this loan plan, the money will get to the teachers when it is due," Gov. Jester said.

He said W. A. Kirkland of Houston, president of the state bankers association, will notify all Texas bankers that banks are agreeable to loaning money to local communities in all parts of Texas necessary to keep rural aid schools open for their full regular terms.

TSCW SYMPHONY WILL BE FEATURED HERE

The widely-known 75-piece Texas State College for Women Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of E. Laurin Frost, will be presented in a concert in Cameron, March 20, in the Yoe High School Gymnasium, at 8:15 p. m., sponsored by the Cameron Rotary Club.

Presenting compositions ranging from the classical to the modern, the all-girl orchestra will feature Miss Elizabeth Cunningham, Arlington, Tenn., vocalist, and Miss Mary Oden, Fort Worth, violinist, as soloists.

The Symphony, official orchestra for the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, is well-known in the Southwest for its campus concerts, and annual radio concerts on Founder's Day. Members of the Orchestra are selected at the beginning of the school year on the basis of ability and retain their positions by scholarship and talent. The admission is free.

The appearance here of the Symphony will be of especial interest because two Cameron girls are members of the orchestra. They are Miss Alma Marie Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brady and Miss Lynn Skelton, daughter of W. B. Skelton.

Jim Perkins transacted business in Cameron recently. He is from Calvert.

Scholarship winners are chosen through a statewide competition on the basis of character, evidence of leadership, need of assistance, and scholarship. Applications are now being received by the Registrar's Office of the College from candidates for twenty-eight additional awards available to boys graduating from high school this spring.

18 DEGREES CLOCKED ON LOCAL WEATHER

The cold weather that brought freezing temperatures to all of Texas and a record for low temperatures in many sections, will continue for the next 24 to 48 hours but not as severe as on Thursday.

Temperature in Cameron was 18 degrees Friday morning, the same as on Thursday morning.

Cloudy weather was predicted for the remainder of the day and a portion of Saturday. Freezing temperatures were forecast for Friday night again.

A strong north wind began blowing around 7 a. m. Friday and may continue for the next 24 hours.

GOOD SPEAKER FROM McLENNAN COUNTY

BACKS UP PACT OF 5 EUROPEAN STATES

President Truman told a joint session of Congress at noon to-day that Russia must be stopped in the current agression in Europe and plainly stated that the United States stands squarely behind the five nation pact of mutual defense announced an hour before his address.

Mr. Truman said that the treaty of defense announced by Britain, France, Belgium and the Netherlands has the support of the United States but left the matter of further support to the congress.

Mr. Truman called for immediate action on European Recovery under the Marshall Plan and called for immdeiate enactment of a second national selective service draft and compulsory military training.

The President pulled no punches in his talk broadcast to the world and although the atmosphere in the House of Representatives was tense he was given prolonged applause at the conclusion of his address.

Mr. Truman is flying to New York for a major address at 10 o'clock tonight.

He said that Russia has not only refused to co-operate for world peace but is doing everything short of war to prevent it. This he said poses a threat to the liberties of all peoples and unless the Soviet is stopped the freedom of all will be wiped out.

The speech was received with mixed reaction, some thought it far short of what he should have demanded, others believe it is the beginning of a determined move to set the world in order again, even to the point of war with Russia.

HOMER ALLEN HEADS DISABLED VETERANS

The Veterans were guests at a barbecue held at the home of City Marshal Jim McGoldrick.

The business session followed the barbecue and officers were elected as follows: Homer Allen, Commander; H. B. McClellen, Senior Commander; W. E. Mikulec, Junior Vice Commander and M. H. Nance, Adjutant.

The Post has been named the Sam Tyson Post in honor of the late Lieut. Sam Tyson who lost his life in action over France while on a bombing mission against Germany in the last war.

LIVESTOCK AND DOGS DIE OF HYDRAPHOBIA

Warnings were being issued here to-day by city officers that an epidemic of rabies may be imminent among dogs.

Immediate vaccination to immunize dogs was demanded here as a precaution and safety measure. Dog owners should act quickly not only to save their pets from rabies but dog killers may seize the opportunity to do away with them. Cameron dog owners have a fund of $500 available for the arrest and conviction of anyone guilty of poisoning dogs.

At least two dogs and some cattle have died locally from rabies. Dogs known to be mad have died or been killed and the extent of infection may not be known until it is too late.

City Marshal Jim McGoldrick today called upon all dog owners to act quickly.

I. E. Martin of Houston, collector of guns, was in Cameron Monday looking for items. He is especially interested in guns from Europe but found none here. Mr. Martin's address is P. O. Box 626, Houston, Texas.

Miss Beatrice Dodson, student at Durham's Business College in Austin recently visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Dodson.

FAMILIAR PATTERN TO BRING 3RD WORLD WAR

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12—Delegates of Britain, France and the three Benelux countries adopted today the completed draft of a treaty setting up a western European union as a block to communism.

The pact when ratified binds Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to an automatic joint defense against attack in Europe. Although Germany is said to be mentioned by name as a possible aggressor it is by no means limited to defense against Germany alone.

Described by one qualified source as a pact "unprecedented in the history of Europe," it also binds the five nations to a joint declaration of Democratic principles, and to harmonize their production, standards of living, legal systems, trade practices and other matters touching nearly every field of national activity.

The complete text will not be made public before the treaty is signed here Wednesday by the five foreign ministers, the negotiators said.

The union is left open for other European nations to join. A non-European country, such as the United States, wishing to associate itself with the work of the union would have to deal with the European union as a whole. The Associated Press was informed. It could not join and have a voice inside it.

The agreement, which includes four of the world's greatest colonial powers, provides for automatic mutual aid in case of attack in Europe. It calls for consultation in case of attack in colonial areas.

It was reliably understood to go farther than any of its authors originally had planned. The week-long conference had been planned without the presence of foreign ministers or economic or military experts. These were not expected to be needed.

However, the foreign ministers had to be continually consulted as point after point came up broadening the aspects of the negotiations. As a result, it was said, virtually all decisions will have to be implemented by further discussions among the military, political and economic specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bollinger who have been residing in Brenham have returned to Milam County and are at present living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ballinger on Route 1.

If "Number please?" is sometimes delayed...

When you lift your telephone receiver, a light appears on the switchboard in front of several operators. Normally at least one of them can respond quickly. She picks up one of the cords in front of her and plugs it into the switchboard. This connects her with your telephone and she says, "Number, please?"

But nowadays the switchboard is temporarily crowded, serving many people who otherwise would not have service. Many more telephones are in use than ever before, and calling is at an all-time high. The switchboard at times is literally ablaze with lights—and if you should call during one of these busy times, it is possible that every one of the operators who could answer your call is busy. When that happens, a few extra seconds may elapse until you hear the familiar "Number, please?"

As soon as much-needed equipment can be obtained and installed, we'll be ready to handle your calls quicker and better than ever before. Meanwhile, if at times your call is not answered at once, you'll know that nimble fingers will reach it as soon as they possibly can. We appreciate your patience and understanding.

Scout Executives Talk Over Plans In Meeting At Rockdale

Rockdale was host to the Executives of the Boy Scout Heart of Texas Council Wednesday night, Feb. 24, and served a barbecue dinner at the American Legion Building.

This, the first Council Board meeting of 1948, was conducted by the new Council President, H. H. Coffield, assisted by Scout Executive J. A. Gaskin.

The fact that some 100 Scouters attended this meeting in spite of very inclement weather indicates that there is a renewed interest in Scouting in this area and that the goal of an increase of 100% in membership will be attained for 1948.

All Committees made their reports of plans and activities for the year and talks were made by such Scout Officials as R. L. Dillard, President of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce; Harold Nussbaum, banker, of Mexia; J. E. Johnson, Past President, Temple; Dr. R. E. Bullard, Marlin on the Health and Safety program; Harry J. Lewis, Waco, Finance Director; District Attorney Bill Morrison, H. H. Pruett, Milano School Sup't.; A. C. Ater, Jr., Temple, and many others.

Heart Of Texas Council consists of the nine following districts; Bosque, Freestone, Waco, Limestone, Temple, Hamilton, Bell-Cove, Falls and Milam. A financial goal of $38,500.00 has been set for the year and most of this has been contributed. The area head-quarters at Waco is directed by J. A. Gaskin and a staff of several field men, secretaries etc. and has shown a healthy growth for the past two years.

The first major activity for 1948 was announced as a "Cat Hunt" to be staged on the 17,000 acre Diamond H Ranch in Dimmitt County, South Texas.

Ninety Senior scouts will be on this three day hunt under the direction of a professional lion hunter and a state game warden.

The major game will be Mountain Lions, Bob Cats and coyotes and these Senior Scouts are eagerly looking forward to this unique experience in this modern age.—Rockdale Reporter.

Mrs. Roddy Morrison of Denver, Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Burton of Walesco and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Tripplett of Crawford, Minn., visited Mrs. M. E. Blake at Newton Memorial Hospital over the week end. They also visited other friends and relatives in Cameron.

Intruder, Hidden Under Bed, Betrayed by Dish

PHILADELPHIA.—When Mrs. Ann Morgan, 74, and her nieces, Olive and Jane Morgan, returned from church to their home they noticed a dish on the dining room floor.

Mrs. Morgan bent to pick it up and saw a youth hiding under the bed in an adjoining room. The youth emerged, threatened the women with a flashlight and ran out the front door.

Mrs. Morgan told police that $25 was missing from a dresser drawer.

The burglar apparently had knocked over the dish in taking some grapes from the table. He had entered the house by removing a window screen.

Woman Bleeds to Death in Her Sleep

Husband Slept in Same Room Unaware of Tragedy.

RYE, N. Y.—Pieced together by Dr. Amos O. Squire, Westchester county medical examiner, was the amazing story of how Mrs. Helen Proctor bled to death in her sleep from a small cut that reached an artery.

Mrs. Procter was found dead in bed by her husband, Ralph, an electrical engineer, of Columbus, Ohio, who had slept in the same room all night unaware anything was wrong.

Mrs. Procter had bled profusely, but the only wound that could be found was a half-inch cut near the top of the right instep.

There was broken glass on the floor of the kitchen of the Procter summer home, where a drinking glass had fallen and shattered. There were bloodstains on the glass.

"Mrs. Procter had taken a sedative tablet last night," Dr. Squire said. "She apparently got up and, while under the effects of the sedative, went to the kitchen, where the glass fell and broke.

"A piece of broken glass made the small cut in the tender skin near the top of the right instep. It would have been a minor matter except that the glass opened an artery.

"We did not find any indication that she tried to bandage the cut or stop the blood with a tourniquet. The sedative might account for that.

"When she went back to bed and slept again, her right foot stuck out over the edge of the bed. Blood dripped from the cut onto the carpet until she died from loss of blood."

The husband told police that when he awakened and saw the cut he put a bandage on his wife's foot. Then he discovered she was dead.

Self-Termed 'Countess' Arrested in Auto Racket

PARIS. — Police raided the hotel suite of the "Countess d'Apremont" to arrest her for questioning about a racket in which automobiles bought for $2,200 in the United States are resold in Paris for $20,000.

The "countess," whom the police perfecto call Cecile Arrault, imperiously picked up the telephone and demanded: "Give me the President of the Republic."

French reporters said the police stood politely by while she was told the president was not available. Noting they weren't impressed, the countess said: "Tough luck—it's the first time that gag hasn't worked."

No Snow, but Farmers Find Use for Snowplows

NEW YORK.—A shipment of 100 snowplows to farm implement dealers in South Africa caused perplexity among port officials here until an explanation was forthcoming.

There was no blizzard on the African desert, said F. L. Hopkinson, vice president of Frazer Farm Equipment company. The plows would be attached to rototiller farm implements and used to stack up wheat and rice during the harvest season in the Union of South Africa.

Native laborers, he added, regarded the snowplow as a revolutionary labor-saver for the farm.

To Speak When Spoken to Is Worth While Any Place

WASHINGTON. — In Texas, folks who want to be friendly speak when they're spoken to.

A midnight intruder rapped on the door of two pretty Texas Waves, Lorraine and Isabelle Clemons, and wouldn't answer their inquiry, "Who's there?"

So Lorraine raised the .22 caliber rifle they keep between them in bed and fired once through the wooden door.

The unresponsive visitor beat it, fast.

Duce's Daughter Becomes 'Bourgeois,' Sets Wedding

ROME. — The Communist-sponsored newspaper La Republica reported that Edda Ciano, the late Duce's daughter, was about to marry Pietro Capuano, a Naples jeweler, and settle down in a three-room apartment.

La Republica said Edda had told her friends, "We Mussolinis are becoming cursedly bourgeois. My mother has become a cook, brother Romano is a bookkeeper and I am getting married."

OUR TOWN—

commodation with living room but first we count our travelers checks.

As we fall asleep after negotiating some 550 miles of concrete pavement we hear in subdued, far off melody, the whistles of steam boats on the river.

Colonel James Creecy in "Scenes From The South," in 1880 wrote this stirring Rhapsody of Old New Orleans:

Have you ever been in New Orleans? If not, you'd better go.

Frenchmen, Spaniards, West Indians, Creoles, Mustees, Yankees, Kentuckians, Tennesseans, lawyers and trustees;

Negroes in purple and fine linen, and slaves in rags and chains;

Ships, arks, steamboats, robbers, pirates, alligators,

Assassins, gamblers, drunkards, and cotton speculators,

Yellow fever in February —muddy streets all the year;

Many things to hope for, and a devilish sight to fear!

Gold and silver bullion — United States bank notes,

Horse racers, cockfighters, and beggars without coats.

Snapping turtles, sugar, sugar houses water snakes,

Molasses, flour, whiskey, tobacco, corn and johnny cakes,

Beef, cattle, hogs, pork, turkeys, Kentucky rifles,

Lumber, boards, apples, cotton and many other trifles.

Now and then there are duels, for very little cause;

The natives soon forget 'em—they care not much for laws.

New Orleans

Hamilton Basso, the New Orleans author, in a frank appraisal of his home city, recently said: "Part of the luggage of every traveler, coming to a place of which he has read but not seen, is a bundle of preconceptions." How true, yet the things you expected to see and do not find seem unimportant because there is so much you never dreamed could be possible to witness.

What is a hundred years, more or less, in New Orleans? Here you literally walk through the centuries and history becomes a pattern as familiar as Pecan Pralines or Pirate's Alley off Jackson square.

New Orleans is a counterpart of the fabulous story of Louisiana. When Thomas Jefferson sent a commission to France to negotiate with Napoleon for the purchase of New Orleans, Tallyrand declined to sell only New Orleans because, as he said: "Without New Orleans all of Western America is valueless to us," and, forthwith agreed to sell all of Louisiana territory, with New Orleans, for 15 million dollars.

New Orleans is the 13th largest city in America. Its early background was French but the population has changed somewhat since its founding in 1718 by Bienville the Canadian. Today the predominant strain are negroes, about 26 per cent of the population and some 150 thousand of them, many from the slave families on the old sugar plantations. Of the white population the Italians predominate and a surprising fact is that the Germans are second and the French are fourth.

The city is one of colorful contrasts and in many respects the most interesting in the world. Those who rate cities on points of interest say Paris, San Francisco and New Orleans. One learns quickly here many things he did not know before. Creole stands for the best and as you saunter down these centuries old streets you see frequently displayed upon a sign the word Creole. If it is cooking they are advertising it is the best, or if it be candy or whatnot, it is the best. It may surprise you [illegible] are no Creoles now living in Louisiana. True there are remote descendants of the original Creole families, the aristocrats who settled the old French and Italian quarter in New Orleans.

Upper Louisiana is called the Cajun country. The down right snobs in New Orleans will sometimes tell you the Cajuns are the tillers of the soil. This is not true. While the Cajuns are in the majority as farmers they are the people who came to Louisiana after the purchase in 1803. French is spoken here almost altogether among the latin tongues. This is true of the upper portions of the state as well.

Few realize it but the area of New Orleans is larger than New York. The city is a Parish or County within itself. Called the wickedest city in the world at one time, its Bordelais a show place and a touted asset, now stems well into a more pious metropolis. In the old days the city was machine ridden, so tough that even Huey P. Long could not break it. In 1946 in one of the more surprising upheavals in municipal politics a young chap named Morrison, now 36, beat the daylights out of the machine and as a result the old town got a moral bath. One senses more than the average of take here but there are no gambling casinos in New Orleans. They are all located across the Parish line.

New Orleans is 65 per cent Catholic and at one time was 90 per cent. On each recurring anniversary of the birthday of Robert E. Lee the banks close and everybody worth their Pralines takes a holiday. God bless 'em. Although jazz was born here in the Tenderloin and this is the home of Bunk Johnson who squeezed the first ribald note out of a saxaphone, music here is far above average. In our room are two radios and we hear the old masters together with the intermediate melodies. When a radio station comes on the air they play Dixie. God bless 'em again.

New Orleans

Louisiana is unique in territorial history. The state has seen more flags of sovereignty than Texas, eight in fact when one counts the alternating power of both Spain and France.

The story is a fabulous one and began early in the 16th century, in fact 1519. The early explorers were the Spaniards under Pineda in 1519, Narvaez in 1529 and DeSoto in 1541.

It was not until 1682, more than a hundred years later that LaSalle said by some historians to have met his death near the present city of Navasota but never proven, sailed down the Mississippi and took possession of the territory in the name of the King of France who was Louis XIV.

The story of LaSalle is familiar to every school child of a half century back though it is doubtful now if our schools teach any such thing, in fact a youngster hearing the name LaSalle would be more than apt to fix the explorer as a third baseman on the Detroit Tiger team of 1920.

Two years after the French explorer claimed Louisiana for Louis the Fourteenth he attempted to establish a colony and starting out with four ships and 280 men they lost their way and landed at Matagorda Bay and are presumed to have perished somewhere in this area. The story goes that LaSalle believed he was near the mouth of the Mississippi and pushed inland reached point near Navasota and was killed by savages. In the city of Navasota is a statue to LaSalle.

Bienville the French Canadian and his brother founded the first settlement at Biloxi on the coast of what is now the state of Mississippi. In 1711 when Louisiana was made an independent colony it had five settlements and 400 population. New Orleans was founded by Bienville in 1718 and in 1722 was made the capital. Louisiana territory at one time in relation to the North American continent was similar to that of Milam county in Texas, at one time embracing a territory cut out into more than 50 counties.

New Orleans was one of the cherished possessions of both France and Spain and the reluctance to give up the Crescent City was noted much earlier that the attitude of Tallyrand who received President Jefferson's envoy seeking to buy the city. The territory of Louisiana embraced a vast area with undefined limits and it became a royal province in 1731. Louis XIV in a generous mood ceded New Orleans and all the territory west of the Mississippi to his friend the Spanish King in 1752. In the following year France through the Treaty of Paris ceded to England the territory east of the river but not New Orleans. In 1768 a revolt in New Orleans against Spanish rule threatened a new independence for the great city but it was crushed.

How fabulous was the Louisiana purchase can be understood from the loosely defined limits mentioned in the purchase by the United States in 1803. The territory was about 1 million square miles in area and included what is now Louisiana and the territory east of the river but including New Orleans, also Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota west of the great river, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, nearly the whole of Kansas, the portions of Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado east of the Rocky mountains and most of Oklahoma and for this vast territory the United States paid the sum of 15 million dollars. Texas the other fabulous area under Spanish rule was never a part of course, of the Louisiana purchase. The purchase represents the most important territorial acquisition in the history of the Republic. Napoleon was influenced at the time by the seriousness of the situation in Europe and did not feel he could defend the territory against the British navy. President Jefferson wanted Louisiana primarily because it would give the United States absolute freedom in the navigation of the Mississippi River.

Louisiana has changed little through the centuries in its traditions and way of life. The early influences of Spain and France on the state and especially the city of New Orleans make them perhaps the most interesting and unique portions of the North American continent. Here in New Orleans, if you want to see the colorful side of the picture, you just let your imagination have its way and become a part of the scene as it unfolds through the centuries. To-morrow, more about New Orleans.

Worried About The Meat Strike? Well Steaks Are $6 Pound

Are you worried about the meat strike? I am not especially excited since I found out about steaks.

In the good old days Paw went to the butcher shop and had 'em cut off a roast as big as a wash tub or ten to 12 pounds of steak and planked down a silver dollar and his brood at the home nest had their fill.

The price of meat and not the strike is more to worry about. Choice sirloin steak from a packing house wholesale at $3 a pound so a Cameron cafe owner said Monday.

When asked what he would have to get for a pound steak fed from subsidized corn and killed and processed by Union labor, he said "six dollars." If you want a steak fork up $6 and you can have one. Worried about the strike, or the price?

Edwin Lyon of Cameron is among the members of the A Capella Choir who will sing at the meeting in San Antonio Friday.

How to Keep 'Em Down On the Farm

The other day Pete Swanson's nephew, Bud, allowed as how he was fed up with farm and country life ... and was going to the city where there was a lot more opportunity and excitement.

Some folks might have tried to stop him. But not Pete. He even advanced Bud carfare for the trip ... figured that when he'd had a good look around, he'd come back where he belonged.

And what happened? After seven days of big-town bustle and excitement, Bud was back behind the wheel of a tractor, with color in his cheeks again. And he'd traded the night life of the city for a quiet glass of beer with Dad.

From where I sit, that's how it goes. Try to prevent some one from getting what he thinks he wants—and he'll go on wanting it. But give him his head, and he'll settle for the sensible thing—whether it's country life, or a temperate glass of beer!

PRESIDENT DISTURBED OVER EUROPEAN ROW

WASHINGTON, March 11—President Truman said today that recent events in Europe have somewhat shaken his confidence in world peace, but he appealed fervently against any letdown in the struggle of lasting peace.

Speaking slowly and with great feeling, he told a press conference that we must have peace because the world could not stand the self-destruction of another great war. He hoped that eventual peace is within the reach of the world family of nations and he urged the American people, as Secretary of State George C. Marshall did yesterday, to take a calm and dispassionate view of the international situation.

Mr. Truman did not elaborate on what steps would be taken to help preserve the peace, but he did rule out the possibility that a meeting between him and Soviet Premier Josef Stalin was planned.

He said the recent revival of rumors that he might meet Stalin was news to him and that he has not been approached officially on any such conference.

Asked whether the time had arrived for the United States to enter into a military alliance with the non-Communist nations of Western Europe. Mr. Truman said he was not prepared to answer that question.

SECOND PEARL HARBOR WILL BE AVOIDED

The government of the United States through its war, navy and air departments to-day moved to prepare for war.

Institution of the draft was called for and General Louis B. Hershey who was head of the selective service system said that in all probability young men by the millions will be called up for training within the next 60 days.

George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, said the world situation has worsened and is very grave.

United States military commanders got this order today: Agree on the division of duties between the army, navy and air force in the event of war.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal gave the order. He told a news conference "I'm going to spend the week-end" threshing out the question with the joint chiefs of staff.

Those land, air and sea chieftains are:

Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff.

Gen. Carl Spaatz, air force chief of staff.

Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations.

Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to the President.

The meeting will be somewhere outside Washington, to permit uninterrupted discussions. And the civilian secretaries of the three services probably won't be invited.

What Forrestal wants decided now is which service will do what in a war.

Jungle Pygmies Hunt Elephants; Fear White Man

Priest Visits Congo Tribe; People Run Like Deers, Climb Like Monkeys.

WARE, MASS.—The Rev. Pierre L'Heureux, 35-year-old American missionary with the order of White Fathers, brought out the latest reports of a strange tribe of elephant-hunting pygmies who can run as fast as a deer and climb trees with a monkey's agility. The tribe is still hiding out from the white man in the Belgian Congo. The priest has just returned after eight years in Africa.

The pygmies, ranging in height from four feet four inches to four feet eight inches, were described by the priest as a jolly, carefree people who spend all of their time hunting.

"They are a nomadic tribe who do not cultivate the land or grew anything," he said. "All they want to do is hunt. They barter their bag with other natives for food."

The little men, he said, were "completely fearless of everything in the wild jungle country—except white men."

"The only way I was able to approach them was through the chief of another native tribe," said Father L'Heureux. "Once assured I meant them no harm, they proved a friendly people."

Call Hunts a Ritual.

The Ware priest said the pygmies used poisonous arrows and spears in their elephant hunts, which were a ritual with them.

"They wound an elephant with an arrow and then move so swiftly the elephant does not know where the next attack is coming from," he said. "It's amazing the way they can hide in the undergrowth.

"Once an elephant has been attacked, one of the pygmies will jump on its hind legs—holding on with one hand while using the other to cut into the hide with a sharp piece of metal until he cuts a tendon.

"Then they finish off the elephant with spears and cut it open—walk into the carcass as if it were a tent."

Father L'Heureux said the pigmy tribe — numbering about 6,000 — seemed to enjoy hunting as a sport as well as a means of existence and that the tribesmen knew the wild animals better than any of the other natives.

The skin of the Congo pigmies around Lake Albert, he said, was a brownish yellow—not as dark as the other African natives. They have jet black kinky hair and wear few ornaments.

Live in Huts.

They live in primitive huts made of tree branches and leaves—so loosely constructed that they keep out neither sun nor rain.

"All they want to do is to roam the jungles," said the missionary. "They are complete lovers of liberty but want no part of civilization."

Father L'Heureux said he first ran across the pygmies while on an automobile ride with a native chief.

"We were about 25 miles from the native village," he said. "When the pygmies saw me they vanished into the jungles as if into thin air.

"The chief with me knew their language and called to one of them, who happened to be the pygmy chief. He asked him to gather other members of the tribe and meet us at the village.

"We drove back about 30 miles an hour. When we got there, hundreds of pygmies were already waiting for us, with their drums."

The Ware priest is one of only 28 Americans in the White Fathers, an international order of 2,600 missionaries with headquarters in Alexandria, North Africa.

Masked Robber Steals Savings of Three Old Men

CHICAGO.—The savings of three elderly roommates, including a $700 bond from World War I, were stolen by an armed and masked robber. He forced one of the roommates to lie on the floor of their apartment while his companions were out for a walk. The loot amounted to $1,700 in cash and $1,300 in war bonds.

Victims of the robbery were Adam Jarnutowski, 62; Walter Derengowski, 60, and Alex Nucielske, 54, employees of International Harvester company. Derengowski lost $1,200 cash and a $700 bond from World War I. Nucielske lost $400 and $600 worth of bonds. Jarnutowski was robbed of $100.

Jarnutowski told police that his companions were out for a walk at 2:30 p. m. when the armed and masked man confronted him in the third-floor apartment, forced him to lie on the floor, covered him with an overcoat and ransacked the place.

Safety Deposit Boxes in Bank Looted for $100,000

TORONTO.—Loot believed to total more than $100,000 was taken from 33 safety deposit boxes of a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, police said. They gave no details on how entry was gained.

The case was similar to the recent rifling of safety deposit boxes at a bank in Carp, Ont., in which more than $230,000 was taken.

NORTHERN DEMOCRATS ASK FOR MACARTHUR

WASHINGTON, March 3—Anti-Truman sentiment flickered today among Democrats of the North.

Joseph B. Ely, twice Democratic Governor of Massachusetts, came out against President Truman's renomination. He said he would like to see the party run Gen. Douglas MacArthur instead.

Ely gave his views in an interview while Southern Democrats pressed their campaign to prevent Mr. Truman's nomination for the Presidency.

And some politicians saw a move in the same direction in a radio speech last night by Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Democrat of Colorado. His title was: "If I Were President." He said Mr. Truman had failed to bring about national unity.

There were other signs of discord in the Democratic Party.

Filipino Bands Murder Yanks And Loot Shops

Insurgent Forces Raid U. S. Property, Make Armed Attacks on Citizens.

CLARK FIELD, P. I.—Philippine insurgent forces have made armed attacks against Americans, looted U. S. government property and fired on a U. S. plane, the 13th air force has reported to General MacArthur.

Most of the incidents can be charged to the Hukbalaahps, a guerrilla group that never was disarmed after World War II. The Huks are believed by air force officers to have Communist support.

The officers said the Huks—reportedly numbering more than 10,000 armed men—may be striving to discredit, if not overthrow, the government of Pres. Manuel Roxas and possibly force withdrawal of U. S. troops from the islands.

U. S. Officers Killed.

They reported that seven U. S. army men and the infant child of a U. S. army officer had been killed in the series of incidents to date.

An American trainer plane was fired on, but not hit, during a routine training flight.

Telephone lines of the 13th air force have been cut so often that it has been forced to use frequency modulation radio channels to make calls to Manila. Six Filipinos were arrested on charges of looting underground cable connecting Clark field and Manila.

Thousands of dollars worth of American property — particularly bombs and machine gun ammunition—has been stolen every month from air installations in the Philippines.

More than 200 Huks have been convicted of crimes ranging up to murder. Another 100 are awaiting trial on murder charges.

The attacks on army men and their dependents reached a point where Brig. Gen. Robert C. Oliver, 13th air force chief of staff, ordered a ban on night travel on Philippine roads.

Keep in After Dark.

All U. S. personnel are restricted to their bases after dark. The curfew, affecting 7,000 military personnel in this area, was lifted when the Filipinos protested it was hurting their business.

But that same night an army weapons carrier was ambushed. One sergeant was killed and a second wounded. The curfew went back on.

Another ambush murder victim was the child of Capt. Edwin Pough. Plough, his wife and the baby were riding through San Luis in central Luzon at night when hidden assailants opened fire on them. One bullet killed the infant and wounded the wife. Plough also was hit.

When the Filipino military police and American M.P.s went to make arrests, they also were attacked from ambush. Four Filipino police were killed.

Three suspects seized later named a Major Bondoc as the ringleader of the Huk force making the attacks from ambush.

Bondoc was jailed but subsequently released in protective custody.

Army authorities said two members of the Bondoc family were killed recently in a frustrated attempt at an ambush.

Intruders Hold Back on Robbery to Feed Infant

NEW YORK.—There was a slight delay in a robbery in a Central Park West apartment while one or two intruders squeezed an orange to quiet 11-month-old Susan Antoinette Fayle.

Lt. Comdr. Eddie Fayle of South Hempstead, Long Island, had taken his wife and daughter to visit his mother, Mrs. Mercedes Fayle. The latter was not at the door to welcome them for the reason that she was tied hand and foot in a storage closet. Instead, they found two robbers.

The baby's hungry cries at this juncture moved the robbers to action. While one remained to guard the Fayles, the other went to the kitchen, squeezed an orange and fed the baby.

Then they trussed the commander and put him in the closet with his mother, tied his wife to a chair with the baby in her lap, and left with $500 in cash and jewelry, police said.

The younger Mrs. Fayle freed herself a short time later and summoned aid.

Patron Makes Mince Meat Of Cafe Over Hamburger

BALTIMORE. — The customer definitely was in a bad humor.

Mrs. Emma Sullivan, a lunchroom waitress, told police a man ordered a hamburger and, meaning no offense, she asked, "How do you want it?"

"Never mind how I want it, just cook it," was the reply. Then, police were told, he: Picked up a bottle and smashed the glass top of a cash register; smashed a glass pie case; picked up a seated patron and tossed him on the floor.

And before getting into an automobile and driving away, it was further reported the disgruntled customer struck another man outside the restaurant.

LOCAL GUARD UNIT IS INSPECTED FOR ARMY

Battery C, 239th Field Artillery Battalion received its annual Federal inspection on Thursday of last week, Captain Rudolph Michalka informed the Herald today.

Lt. Col. Benosky and Major Stein of the Inspector General's Department, Fourth Army Headquarters, Ft. Sam Houston, made the inspection, he said. They examined the battery's records, equipment and armory in the afternoon, and inspected the officers and men in the evening during the two hour drill period. The officers indicated they were pleased with the condition of the unit records and equipment, and expressed hope that some deficiencies in armory facilities could be corrected at an early date.

In commenting on other developments, Capt. Michalka said that all uniforms were distributed recently and members of Battery C now will have "the new look". He added that a contest will be held beginning next week to choose the Guardsmen making the neatest appearance.

Royal Jeter and his family from Houston visited relatives and friends in Cameron over the past week end. The Jeters are former residents of Cameron and have many friends here. Mr. Jeter is associated with a Construction company in Houston.

Check for $27,000,000 For Income Tax Mailed

NEW YORK, March 12.— While trying to figure out whether you owe the government $1.98 or the government owes you $3.56, stop a moment and consider the case of one income tax payer here:

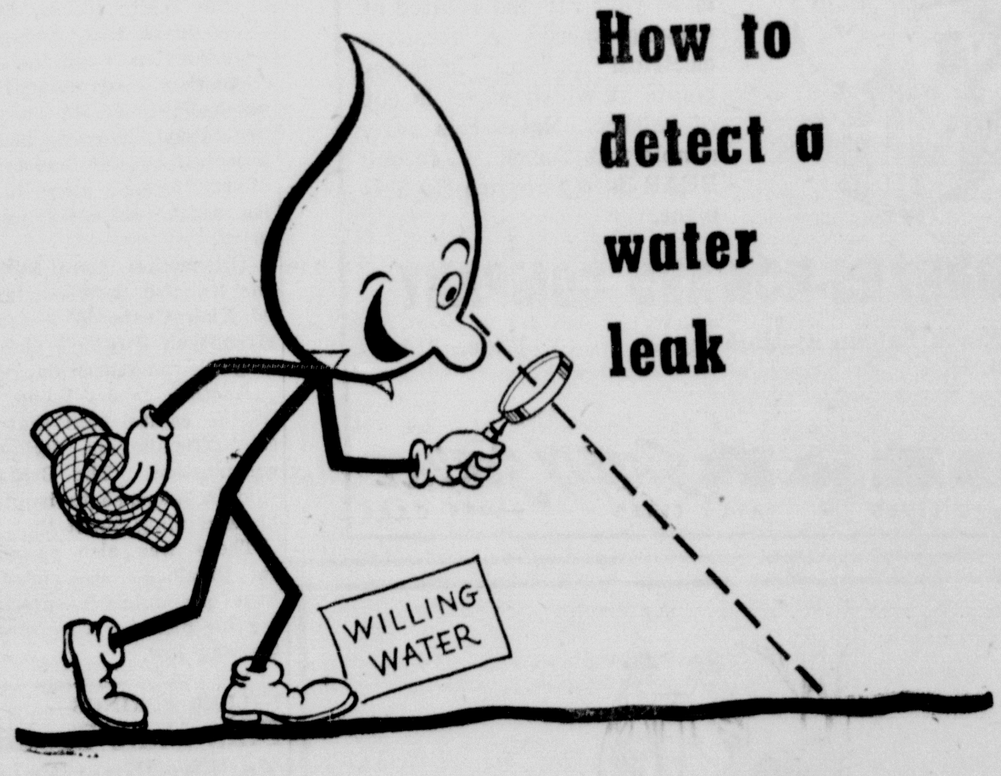
How to detect a water leak



Here's a simple method for determining whether or not you have a hidden water leak on your premises:

First, turn off all faucets and hydrants. Keep them turned off during your investigation.

Next, watch the dial on the water meter marked "ten gallons." This dial is marked off in ten parts, each division being one gallon. If the hand on the dial continues to move, a leak is indicated. The size of the leak may be determined by timing the meter, as one gallon in 15 minutes, two gallons in 15 minutes, etc.

A faucet leak may be easily located as the drip can be seen, but water closet leaks are harder to find. Sometimes yard hydrants, sill cocks and underground pipes leak and water soaks away into the ground. If possible, a leaky pipe or fixture should be shut off until repaired.

If you find evidence of a leak, call a plumber immediately. Do not allow a leak to continue indefinetly as it adds to your bill every minute.

20 PROSPECTS HERE REPORT FOR PRACTICE

High school district baseball schedule for 1948 has been announced and the season will open for the Yoemen in Cameron on April 13.

Coach Harrison McClaren reported Tuesday that 20 boys were on hand for practice Monday and to answer the call for baseball prospects. Some of the lettermen from the 1947 team are now engaged with the track and field meet program to be held here Saturday, April 10 and will be available for the team after that date.

Teams in the district are Cameron, Killeen, Taylor, Belton, Rosebud. The schedule was arranged in Belton last week. The opening date is Tuesclose on Friday, May 14. The committee voted to name an all district team at the end of the season.

Coach McClaren said that if the enthusiasm shown by the boys on the first day of practice is any indication of their abilities he will be able to field a pretty good team, barring the question of pitching which he says is the most pressing problem. "If the pitchers come through, we may field a pretty good high school baseball team," said the coach. He pointed out that some of the boys are without experience.

Here is the schedule:
Tuesday, April 13—Belton here.
Friday, April 16—Open.
Tuesday, April 20—Rosebud there.
Friday, April 23—Taylor there.
Tuesday, April 27—Killeen here.
Friday, April 30—Belton there.
Tuesday, May 4—Open.
Friday, May 7—Rosebud here.
Tuesday, May 11—Taylor here.
Friday, May 14—Killeen there.

TEMPERATURE DROPS TO 18 DEGREES IN CAMERON

Winter's low of 18 degrees was the experience of Cameron people Thursday morning.

The coldest heretofore during the current season was 19 dgerees. At midnight the temperature here was 24 degrees and at 8 a. m. Thursday was 18. At 8 a. m. on Wednesday the temperature was 53 degrees.

A major portion of the nation was in the grip of the worst blizzard of the winter. Mokes who believe in the Ground Hog theory had a worried look this morning. It was 24 degrees in sunny Santone and the freeze was extending into the Rio Grande Valley.

It was 2 below zero at Amarillo and 12 degrees in Fort Worth. Forecasts were for continued cold. There will be no relief until late Friday and Saturday though sun was shinning over Oklahoma and chances were it might moderate some during the night but a hard freeze is looked for Thursday night.

Sleet began falling around 6 a. m. in Cameron and was still falling at noon. A 27 mile an hour wind was whipping in from the northwest.

Killing freeze was certain to do great damage to early fruit orchards. Precautions were issued to travelers on the highways and livestock warnings were issued to all sections of the southwest.

SUDDEN MOVE STARTS WORLD SPECULATION

WASHINGTON, March 15—President Truman will go before both houses of congress Wednesday to deliver a special, possibly momentous message on the niternational situation—described by Secretary of State Marshall as "very very serious."

The White House, announcing this today, declined to give any inkling of what Mr. Truman would say in the 15-to-20 minute address, which will be broadcast by major networks at 12:30 p. m. EST.

There was immedaite, unofficial speculation that he might call for new measures to block communist expansion in Europe.

One senator, asking not to be quoted by name, said he heard the President may tell the lawmakers Russia has suggested mutual defense pacts to Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

There was no confirmation of this at the White House, State department or at the embassies of the Scandinavian countries.

Another congressional source, also declining to be named, said he understood Norway had been approached by the Soviets and an indirect "feeler" made to Stockholm. He said he did not know about Denmark.

(Dispatches from Stockholm said the Swedish defense staff has asked King Gustav V for measures to strengthen Sweden's defenses, stressing the "increased danger of war.")

Another report going the rounds at the capitol was that high British officials are flying here for consultation. The British embassy said in response to inquiries that it knew nothing about that.

There was also speculation that the President may speak chiefly about preparedness—perhaps renewing his plea for a universal military training law.

Film Fans Treated To Thrilling Tale Of Texas History

Not since "Gone With The Wind" have audiences been treated to a picture of such epic scope as Republic's stirring drama, "The Fabulous Texan" which comes Thursday to the Cameron Theatre.

Encompassing a dark period in American history, referred to in school texts as The Reconstruction, it deals with the internal strife and sectional hatreds that were aroused in post-Civil War Texas.

With a lavish, but deft hand, Director Edward Ludwig has pointed up this struggle of Texas

Elliott and Carroll play major roles as two returned Confederate veterans who adopt varying methods to free their state from the cruel domination of a ruthless politician and his legalized gang. One attempts persuasive tactics while the other resorts to violence. Between them

TIME FOR WORDS HAS PASSED SOME BELIEVE

WASHINGTON, March 14— The American government's first major move to check Russia since the fall of Czechoslovakia is expected this week. It may be a promise of military support for a western bloc in Europe.

The idea of a direct warning from President Truman to Generalissimo Stalin that further communist expansion means a clash with American power is believed to have been considered here. But some of the President's diplomatic advisers, at least, believe that the time has passed for words to stop Russia and the time for action is here.

State department officials, who hold this view, are pleased with senate passage of the European recovery bill last night. They emphasized that there now remains ample time for the house to act on the measure well in advance of Europe's next critical date—the April 18 Italian election.

The 69 to 17 senate vote gives the Europeans positive evidence of American intention to stand by the recovery plan. It is regarded by diplomatic authorities as an important contribution in itself to the development of a more powerful policy in dealing with Russia.

Similarly, a strengthening of western European anti-communist forces is expected to result from former secretary of State Byrnes' Saturday speech. In it he demanded American readiness to "act" to prevent Russian aggression against Turkey, Greece, Italy or France.
